

IT Leadership & Managed Security

The client needed a trusted partner who could not only assess their environment, but step in with leadership-level support and managed services expertise to restore operational continuity.

Client Challenge

After a year marked by high staff and leadership turnover, the client's IT and security operations lacked consistency and visibility.

With new leadership in place, the organization turned to ANM to assess its existing assets, skillsets, and staffing gaps. The goal: to build a sustainable, well-supported environment that could stabilize their security posture and IT operations.

ANM Engagement

- Conducted full discovery and environmental assessment
- Augmented staff with Virtual CISO (vCISO) and Virtual CTO (vCTO) resources
- Delivered managed services for IT and security operations
- Provided long-term stabilization and leadership support

The Solution

- Implemented security and IT roadmap with dedicated vCISO/vCTO roles
- Assessed and standardized cloud, data center, and security architecture
- Integrated managed services to drive consistent operations
- Supported Microsoft Intune deployment and tooling standardization

ANM helped the client regain control of its IT and security infrastructure, driving maturity across the organization.

The result was stronger leadership, improved managed services, and a standardized foundation that supports long-term success, even amid future staffing changes.
